THE GREAT APPLE ROUND-UP

WE ARE IN A GOLDEN AGE OF APPLE II
APPLE ACQUISITION AND PRESERVATION

Please Help Us Track Down Apple II Collections — March 20, 2017

Please spread this as far as possible - I want to reach folks who are far outside the usual channels.

The Summary: Conditions are very, very good right now for easy, top-quality, final ingestion of original commercial Apple II Software and if you know people sitting on a pile of it or even if you have a small handful of boxes, please get in touch with me to arrange the disks to be imaged. apple@textfiles.com.

The rest of this entry says this in much longer, hopefully compelling fashion.

I have about four shoeboxes worth of disks - almost entirely games and utilities that I bought for $1 at a thrift store almost 20 years ago and stored in a closet. Most but not all are copies.

Is this the kind of thing where you mail disks off and they're gone forever, or do you get them back?

Oh, you simply include a note that you'd like them back, and you will get them back!

Ok, my stash is in! There are 453 here with me plus another couple hundred at my parent's place I can get in July.

The disks here are almost entirely copied stuff including the utilities used to make the copies so I'm not sure they would be interested unless it's something where no other version exists. I planned on finding someone to image them but never got around to it.

Here's what I've got with me. Apple][Disks <https://imgur.com/a/mIUSBh>
